Germany's Frontiers Rolled Back

Britain to Quit
Syria When Pact
Made By France

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill today disputed Gen. de Gaulle's charge that British agents had stirred up trouble in Syria and declared Britain was ready to withdraw all her troops the moment a treaty was effected between France and the Levant states.

Mr. Churchill declared Britain had "absolutely no ambitions of any kind in the Levant states."

"We sought no territory there and no kind of advantage that was not given to any of the other nations of the world," he said.

The Prime Minister declared he favored only Britain, the United States and France negotiating the French-Levant dispute.

Gen. de Gaulle had suggested a five-power parley with Russia and China attending, but Mr. Churchill declared "this would certainly cause a great deal of delay and would require very careful consideration on many grounds."

Britain Sought Peace,
Not War in Levant

"Far from stirring up agitation in the Levant states, our whole influence has been used in precisely the other direction," he declared.

The Prime Minister said that while Britain recognized France's "special position" in those states, that did not mean "we have undertaken to enforce that special position."

"We shall put no obstacle to it either at the council table or in any other way, but our commitments and duties also extend throughout the Middle East," he said.

Mr. Churchill touched upon an apparent diplomatic mix-up which led to a public exchange between himself and Gen. de Gaulle instead of more formal negotiations.

"I must express my regret that the message to Gen. de Gaulle informing him of our intervention reached him some three-quarters of an hour after the Foreign Secretary had made his statement to the House. I need hardly say that no discounting was intended."

Mr. Churchill said he had cautioned Gen. de Gaulle that the sending of French reinforcements to Syria would create a bad impression, but that despite this French forces had begun to land there May 17.

Mr. Churchill said that until British forces intervened, Britain had issued no arms to the Syrians or Lebanese, but that for the sake of maintaining order they now were being issued guns.

Meanwhile views today indicated Turkey was showing strong signs of interest today in the dispute involving Syria and Lebanon. The Istanbul press declared the Turkish government should be represented in any international conference summoned to settle the controversy.

This followed word from Paris that Gen. de Gaulle had conferred Monday with the British, U.S. and Russian ambassadors, presumably on the Levantine problem.

Rumors circulated in Istanbul of a forthcoming "international meeting" there. The government was reported seeking accommodations for "diplomats."

Results of Monday's Paris talks were not announced, but French sources expressed belief that Gen. de Gaulle, who recently turned down suggestions for a French-British conference on the Levant in London, was working on a counter-proposal to broaden the conference to include at least Russia and extend the subject to the whole Middle East, where Britain has heavy interests.

Board to Go Overseas to Recruit
Personnel for Veterans' Offices

A commission, composed of at least one member of the Veterans' Affairs Department and one officer of the Dominion Civil Service Commission will leave soon for Europe to recruit from Canadian military forces overseas staffs to man veterans' affairs department offices and hospitals. Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans' Affairs, announced here today.

Mr. Mackenzie, who will speak tonight at the Sirocco Hall in support of R. W. Mayhew, Liberal candidate in the Victoria riding, said his department by the end of the year would be the largest of the federal government. It now employs 7,000 personnel. Strength of the force to administer services for rehabilitation of returning veterans would be 10,000 before the year's end, he said.

The department, Mr. Mackenzie said, employs entirely veterans of this war and last war. As much as possible veterans of this war are enlisted to man the offices across Canada, the minister said, since the Dominion government felt they were better suited to deal with returning personnel of the three armed services.

A woman's branch has also been set up to assist in rehabilitation of women of the services.

Mr. Mackenzie said the department was employing men of specific skills to deal with rehabilitation of soldiers trained in these skills, and added that manness and ability to deal with men was being emphasized in selecting the staff.

While he admitted errors would be found and these would be corrected as they were discovered, he believed the laws and orders governing veterans' affairs formed as fine a piece of legisla-

Denial By Houde

MATANE, Que. (CP)—Mayor Camille Houde of Montreal today described as "false" a statement made in Montreal Monday night which said he had once told three Montreal lawyers that "Hitler will be master of the world and will come to Canada, and it is Camille Houde who will welcome Hitler in the name of Canada."

The statement was made by Dr. Gaspard Fautoux, Liberal candidate in Montreal-St. Mary, the riding in which Mr. Houde is running as an Independent in the June 11 federal general election. "That is false. Even the imbeciles will not believe such a statement," said Mr. Houde. He did not comment further.

Conservative Win In Ontario Studied
For Possible Effect On Federal Vote

By the Canadian Press

The sweeping civilian vote in favor of the Progressive Conservatives in the Ontario election was studied by political strategists today for clues as to what effect the provincial trend might have on party fortunes in next Monday's federal election.

While the provincial and federal campaigns have been waged on different issues and different platforms, the same parties have been involved in the two contests and Progressive Conservatives seeking election in the federal field now were expected to stress the possible consequences of the provincial triumph on the federal poll.

On the other hand, the Liberal and C.C.F. parties could be expected to minimize the effect of the Ontario result and to emphasize the differences between provincial and federal affairs.

Prime Minister King received the news of the Progressive Conservative victory at Sherbrooke, Que., where he spoke to a railway station platform crowd and said that in coming across Canada from the Pacific coast he had gained the distinct impression that the people were behind the present federal government.

Of the Ontario result, he said briefly: "I have no comment. Provincial politics is one thing and federal politics is another."

Comparison of Votes

TORONTO (CP)—Here is the incomplete Canadian Press compilation, with four seats still doubtful, of the vote polled in Ontario Monday, compared with the vote in the last election (members elected in brackets):

P.C.	654,726 (66)	469,672 (38)
Lib.	392,652 (10)	409,464 (16)
C.C.F.	313,512 (6)	417,007 (34)
Others	94,175 (4)	17,795 (2)

Totals 1,454,465 (86) 1,313,938 (90)

(Totals incomplete—9,246 polls of 10,722.)

Below is a summary of party gains based on civilian vote, with 52 of 90 seats unchanged and four doubtful:

Prog. Con. from C.C.F.	20
Prog. Con. from Lib.	9
Lib. from C.C.F.	3
Lib. from Prog. Con.	1

gressive Conservative leader, said in a statement issued at Capreol, Ont., that the Ontario election returns were "indicative of the swing to the Progressive Conservative Party which I have found in increasing measure from coast to coast during the past few weeks."

M. J. Coldwell, national C.C.F. leader, commented at Edmonton that the people of Ontario have spoken and "we accept their decision." He said he was "not altogether surprised at the result, and added that a 'vast financial interest' was behind the Progressive Conservative Party" and that he was "sure that government would certainly show itself to be thoroughly reactionary."

With election interest drawn by the Ontario contest, the federal campaign was quiet Monday. Justice Minister St. Laurent said in a broadcast address from Quebec that the federal government's family allowances legislation did not tend to "limit the number of children" and added that he never would have consented to a law "which would limit the allowances to a determined number of children in a family."

Senator T. A. Crerar, Liberal, and former Resources Minister, told a rally at Flin Flon, Man., that the end of the road of socialism was the loss of personal freedom and liberty, and challenged the C.C.F. to campaign under the name of socialism instead of a "long-term name" that did not give the "true picture of its aims."

Would Back U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—France would go along with the United States in event of a showdown between this country and Russia on the veto issue at the United Nations' Conference, Chairman Paul Boncour of the French delegation said today.

Any break between the U.S. and Russia would be agonizing to the French delegates, M. Boncour said in an interview, but France would vote with the U.S., however reluctantly.

4 Occupational Zones Outlined
1 Each to Big 4

WASHINGTON (AP)—Germany's frontiers were rolled back to the boundaries of Dec. 31, 1937, today in a joint occupation statement by the Allied powers.

The statement, setting up occupation zones for Great Britain, the United States, France and Russia, recreates the German nation as it was before Hitler's annexation of Austria and Czechoslovakia. The declaration was made simultaneously in Washington, Moscow, London and Paris.

No announcement was made regarding a joint control arrangement for Austria, which is expected to be set up in the fairly near future. Treatment of Austria presumably will be tempered by the Moscow declaration of 1943 which looked toward a restoration of Austrian freedom, depending upon Austrian efforts in behalf of their own liberation.

The Austrian situation is complicated by the recent establishment of the Renner government in Vienna behind Red Army lines, which has not yet been contacted by representatives of Britain, the United States and France.

Nor was there any clarification of what is to be done in Czechoslovakia, which is partly occupied by Russian troops on the east and U.S. troops in the west. The Czech government, a member of the United Nations, has returned to its capital at Prague, east of the Russian army occupation frontier.

A U.S. diplomatic mission reached Prague only last week.

Czech Boundaries
Up to Conference

Final settlement of Czech boundaries is considered a matter to be decided at a peace conference.

With Germany's unconditional surrender, the statement said, there no longer is any central government or authority there "capable of accepting responsibility for the maintenance of order, the administration of the country and compliance with the requirements of the victorious powers."

"It is in these circumstances necessary, without prejudice to any subsequent decisions that may be taken respecting Germany," the pronouncement went on, "to make provision for the cessation of any further hostilities on the part of the German armed forces, for the maintenance of order in Germany and for the administration of the country, and to announce the immediate requirements with which Germany must comply."

Joint Allied
Control in Berlin

Four occupational zones were set up and allotted to the victorious Allied powers as follows:

An eastern zone to the Soviet Union.

A northwestern zone to the United Kingdom.

A southwestern zone to the United States.

A western zone to France.

In addition, an area of "Greater Berlin" was created, to be administered by an inter-Allied governing authority with representatives of each of the four powers.

None of the zones was further defined in the statement.

"The governments of the four powers hereby announce," one of the series of four statements on the occupation said, "that it is their intention to consult with the governments of other United Nations in connection with the exercise of this (occupation) authority."

At another point it was specified: "United Nations organizations will, if admitted by the Control Council to operate in Germany, be subordinate to the Allied control machinery and answerable to it."

Mackenzie to Back
Return of Navy H.Q.
To Esquimalt

Support of Veterans' Affairs Minister Ian Mackenzie, B.C. representative in the federal cabinet, in R. W. Mayhew's campaign for re-establishment of Pacific headquarters of the Canadian Navy at Esquimalt was made known today.

"You will have my complete support in regard to naval establishments at Esquimalt," said Mr. Mackenzie. "Esquimalt is embedded in our naval story—the story of Canada and the Admiralty."

"Vancouver, as the bastion of close defence, will be proud to serve as an ancillary to our outward ocean defence."

Previously, Mr. Mayhew, who has represented Victoria in the House of Commons since 1937, had taken up the return of the Pacific naval headquarters to Esquimalt with the former navy minister, Angus Macdonald who found it impossible at that time to give a definite answer until the situation had been cleared up.

Mr. Mayhew continued negotiations with Prime Minister Mackenzie King and the present minister of naval affairs.

Copies of correspondence with the Prime Minister and naval affairs ministers were forwarded to Mr. Mackenzie by Mr. Mayhew who asked for his support, which was assured today.

Pacific Headquarters of the Canadian Navy had been made at Esquimalt, established more than a century ago as a naval base by the Royal Navy, until 1942, when shortly after the outbreak of the Pacific war they were transferred to Vancouver.

Drew Asks $100,000
From Toronto Star

TORONTO (CP)—Premier George Drew of Ontario said today he had filed a writ seeking $100,000 damages for libel against the Toronto Star and Joseph E. Atkinson, its publisher.

The Premier said he sought damages in connection with an editorial in which the Star said he operated a "system" similar to that of "the Nazi Himmeler." The editorial, he said, referred to charges by C.C.F. leader E. B. Jolliffe that the Premier maintained a paid political police force.

In a statement, Premier Drew said the suit would "put an end to outrageous attacks on men and women in public life of the kind I have been subjected to."

B.C. Travel Bureau Will Make Ex-Prisoners' Dreams Come True

Now Canadian fighters formerly held in prisoner-of-war camps in Germany and Italy are filtering back home, the B.C. Travel Bureau expects to make many prisoners' dreams of home and a farm come true.

While the war was on, the B.C. Travel Bureau, which because of a wartime shrinkage in B.C. tourist travel had swung its energies to settlement activities, received several inquiries from prisoners.

Annual report of the department of trade and industry says the travel bureau is now better and more widely known than at any other time in its history. "There is no day which does not bring its volume of settlement inquiries from all parts of Canada and the United States, no week which does not produce its quota from the United Kingdom and abroad. Many of them are from people who are looking simply for a place in which to make their homes, with no industrial interests; but by far the greater number are from people who are interested in the agricultural and industrial opportunities, and who have the capital and experience for their proper establishment. A substantial number are from men in the armed forces, and even from German and Italian prison camps," said the report.

The report said that a folder on the Peace River district was now in the hands of the King's Printer. It will present the facts from the postwar settlement standpoint. Similar folders are planned on the lower Fraser Valley, the Okanagan Valley, central British Columbia and the Cariboo.

With co-operation of the other departments of the government, the bureau has been able to deal with all inquiries, and been able to bring them usually to successful issues. The bureau is now recognized as a channel through which all inquiries are handled by the University of B.C., banks, boards of trade, insurance and investment companies and Canadian trade commissioners the world over.

The report said a great many of its inquiries came from England, and the bureau is in close and constant touch with W. A. McAdam, agent-general for B.C. in London.

"Through his co-operation," the report said, "the bureau has a complete symposium of the views of the leading authorities on agriculture in England and Scotland, and this will form a basis for a handbook designed chiefly for circulation in those countries."

Mayor Percy George will leave Victoria June 11 to attend the convention of the Federation of Mayors and Municipalities in Toronto. He expects to return June 28.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By J. M. ROBERTS Jr.
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

Reports that the Chinese have cleared the enemy from several towns along a 75-mile stretch of coast from Foochow to Siapu naturally revive consideration of an Allied amphibious operation in that direction.

There are several objectives to be gained which must weigh heavily among military leaders. Some months ago it was thought that occupation of Formosa and a drive into the continent might prove desirable, might even be necessary before Japan could be invaded. Then it began to appear that Formosa could be neutralized and that an invasion of Japan might entail little more effort, and might produce infinitely greater results, than a strike into Japanese-occupied China.

That still remains true. An invasion of Japan embraces the strong possibility that it would be decisive, whereas, barring a surrender in which military men decline to place any hope, operations in China would only be preliminary to the knockout.

But there are problems connected with the invasion of Japan which have not been solved, and chief among them probably is the lack of sufficient air bases. Certainly we have not now the ground to care for all available planes. Compare England and Italy with Okinawa, Iwo and Saipan and you get some idea. And England was terribly crowded.

Of course, carrier planes play an important role in the Pacific. With help from the British navy there might be more than 100 carriers available for the Japanese invasion—perhaps 40 major ones and 75 of the escort type.

We can't help but remember what happened to Germany's vaunted "last ditch" fight after the fall of Berlin. Cutting off the head of that snake finished the job, and our planners in the Pacific might well prefer to direct all their force toward the heart of Japan.

Inquest On Death Of Nanaimo Flier

NANAIMO (CP) — A formal coroner's inquiry Monday failed to throw much light on the return to British Columbia of Lt. George Frederick Fielding, 24, who was found dead with a rifle shot through his head in his mother's home here last Friday.

Fielding returned from overseas May 28 after 15 months in a German prisoner of war camp. He had joined the R.C.A.F. in 1941 and gone overseas in 1943. A Lancaster pilot, he was shot down and captured in February, 1944, but escaped later.

His mother, Mrs. Gertrude E. Fielding, an aunt, Mrs. Charlotte Lawrence of 2415 West Fourth Avenue, Vancouver, and another aunt, Mrs. Rogers, also of Vancouver, told the inquiry Fielding showed signs of mental upset when he arrived home.

They said a telegram was received May 22, "San Origne" advising that he had landed and would send another telegram. Nothing, however, was heard of him until May 28, when he appeared at his aunt's home on Fourth Avenue in Vancouver.

He disappeared from the home the following day and was not aboard the Nanaimo steamer by accident by another aunt bound for this city. She took him to his mother's home.

Mrs. Fielding said she was concerned by the apparent mental derangement of her son. She was absent from the home when the body was discovered by his grandmother. There was a rifle beside the body.

A brother of the late flight lieutenant is with the R.C.A.F. in Ontario.

Says Misuse May Offset Penicillin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sir Alexander Fleming, discoverer of penicillin, warned here against "abuse" of the drug as a cure-all for ailments other than those for which it is now indicated.

Any such improper use, he said, might lead to a situation wherein classes of microbes that are now killed by the drug might develop a resistance to it.

Visiting the United States to observe the use of penicillin in hospitals, Sir Alexander told a press conference Monday that the drug had "far exceeded" the hopes held for it when he discovered it in 1929.

But even when it becomes so plentiful that it can be freely supplied to the whole world, he said, the ideal would be to have it constantly controlled by a doctor's prescription.

In addition to its effectiveness against gonorrhea, the drug "looks as though it's going to be far and away the best thing against syphilis," Sir Alexander said, but he said it had been ineffective against such diseases as cancer, typhoid fever and tuberculosis.

FOR STABLE GOVERNMENT

ONTARIO VOTERS YESTERDAY DID more than endorse the Drew government with an imposing majority over all other parties combined; they dealt a blow to the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation from which it is not likely soon to recover. Many Liberals, impatient with Mr. Hepburn, undoubtedly supported the administration. And although Progressive Conservative candidates and speakers from the Premier down studiously avoided federal matters, excluding references to the Ottawa government or its record and policies, the stunning defeat of the Socialists in Canada's highly industrialized and wealthiest province has sounded the death knell to Mr. Coldwell's hopes of inheriting the mantle of Mr. Mackenzie King.

Nor is it too much to say that the most ardent partisan in Ontario scarcely expected Mr. Hepburn to increase his following in the next Legislature. Regardless of his personal feud with Prime Minister King, the minority leader in the last House at Queen's Park has only himself to thank for his own elimination at the polls. The fact that his party's candidates polled an aggregate of two-thirds that of the Progressive Conservatives, nevertheless, would seem to have a special significance for the distribution of federal seats in the general election next Monday.

As we have previously pointed out in these columns, Premier Drew, recognizing that no basic view divides Conservatives from Liberals in the provincial realm, urged the people of Ontario to avoid the mistake of rendering a verdict that would produce a group government—a stalemate in which the balance of power and use it for political trading purposes when the circumstances seemed propitious. Yesterday's decision has eliminated all such prospects. The people of the premier province of the Dominion are to be congratulated on this important accomplishment.

No candidate or supporter of Mr. Bracken, of course, will be deluded by Premier Drew's victory. The issues were purely provincial, with the leading party in the Legislature genuinely entitled to bid for a working majority after less than two years in office on a tenuous basis. True enough, in that period, the C.C.F. counted only four seats less than the government—with Mr. Hepburn's following a poor third with 16 out of 90—and Socialist leader Joliffe obviously led the way in encompassing the ministry's defeat by the successful passage of an amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

On the dissolution of the last federal Parliament, however, the Liberals held 155 seats out of 245, with 12 vacant, or a majority over no less than nine other parties of more than two to one. And of the 78 oppositionists, the Progressive Conservatives numbered 40, the C.C.F. and Social Credit 10 each, while five Liberal-Progressives and three Independent Liberals could nearly always be counted in the straight Liberal column. On this basis, therefore, and in conformity with Mr. Drew's logic, the Progressive Conservative and the two other opposition parties in the federal arena are not likely to do any better at the polls next Monday than the C.C.F. and the Hepburn Liberals did in Ontario yesterday.

Admittedly, election prognostications are dangerous; but not even the former Premier of Manitoba expects the Progressive Conservatives to pick up anything like the additional 83 seats—that is in addition to the 40 official oppositionists in the last Parliament—they would require to give them a majority of one in the next House of Commons. In other words, in the interests of stable government—never more essential to the welfare of Canada as a whole than now—the electors of this country will do well to endorse an administration which has piloted the nation so eminently satisfactorily through the most crucial years in the Dominion's history.

WHY TAKE CHANCES?

PROMPT ACTION BY HIS MOTHER and skilful assistance from others probably saved Donald Fisher, 11-year-old, from drowning in Glen Lake last Friday evening. The incident serves to emphasize once again the necessity of teaching the young people of this area how to swim.

As the season advances, the beaches and lakes of the region will draw hundreds of boys and girls to water pastimes. Unless they are competent in that element, they run unnecessary risks not only to their own lives, but to those who may be called to help them. It is impossible to avoid all dangers of drowning. Under certain circumstances, the best of swimmers have lost their lives. But every effort should be taken by fathers and mothers to see that the extra security which the ability to swim gives their offspring is provided when they let them join their fellows on excursions to the waterfront or lake.

And as they are being taught to swim, the youngsters should be impressed with the etiquette of the swimming hole—never shout for help unless you need it, and then shout with all the lung power you can command.

UP TO THE SENATE

BETWEEN NOW AND THE EXPIRY date next Tuesday it will be necessary for the Senate at Washington to approve or reject the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act—piloted by 81-year-old Representative Robert Doughton from North Carolina, who is chairman of the all-important Ways and Means Committee of the lower chamber. After four days of heated debate, during which Democrats and Republicans argued the pros and cons—the former contending that further tariff cuts were vital to their country's prosperity and its influence on world policy, and the latter envisioning unemployment and economic ruin were the provisions of this legislation to be expanded or renewed—the House of Representatives passed the bill. But before the vote was taken, Speaker Sam Rayburn descended to the floor and read a letter from President Truman which said in part:

"I regard the pending measure . . . as of the first order of importance for the success of my administration."

Although one lone Democrat sided with the Republican minority on the Ways and Means Committee, and voted against the renewal bill, all the administration's supporters in the House stood firm and sent the measure on to a one-too-friendly Senate with an approval of 239 votes to 153. Not only is this legislation of vital importance to the United States in its trade relations with all the leading countries of the New and Old Worlds, it is also, as the chief executive implied to the lower chamber, an immediate test of our neighbor's foreign policy—her role in the postwar era. For the success or failure of Mr. Truman's trade plans has a direct bearing on the Breton Woods agreement and other measures of international co-operation. Nor can the Senate's action in this matter be divorced from the Charter about to emerge from the San Francisco Conference. And as the President considers the bill "of first importance to the success of my administration," its treatment in the upper House will be watched with intense interest by all the United Nations. The size of the majority by which it is approved there—and it can be assumed that it will pass—will be the yardstick by which the outside world will measure the trend of American policy.

What is involved, as already indicated on this page, is the President's request of the Congress for authority to enter, as executive agreements rather than as formal treaties, into fresh trade arrangements with other countries. In pursuit of this, Mr. Truman asked for power to offer tariff reductions up to 50 per cent of the rates in effect in January, 1945—and this power to remain for a three-year period. His purpose is to bargain for concessions for American goods selling abroad by offering tariff reductions on foreign goods entering the United States.

It is interesting to note, incidentally, that the House votes of 239 to 153 in a membership of 435, with 393 of the members voting, shows clearly that the arguments of the late Mr. Wendell Willkie in respect of international co-operation—not forgetting the campaign promises of Governor Dewey—left little impression on the minds of those Republicans who do not seem to recognize the relationship between 60,000,000 jobs, or less, and an expanding external trade. How closely the Senate follows the House in its division of support for the Doughton bill remains to be seen.

PLANNED ECONOMY

SOME CANADIANS MAY STILL BE somewhat puzzled by a term which so many C.C.F. speakers roll off their tongues with the greatest of ease—"planned economy." Let the voters of Canada cast their minds back to the "planned economy" of Germany and Italy if they desire to get an inkling of the meaning of this high-sounding term. Better still, perhaps, consider the description of this kind of Socialism which Mr. Churchill used in his first election speech yesterday:

"I declare it to you, from the bottom of my heart, that no socialist system can be established without a political police. No socialist government conducting the entire life and industry of the country could afford to allow free, sharp or violently-worded expressions of public discontent. They would have to fall back on some form of Gestapo."

"Look how, even today, they hunger for controls of every kind, as if these were 'delicious' foods instead of wartime inflictions. There is to be one state to which all are to be obedient in every act of their lives. This state is to be the arch-employer, arch-planner, arch-administrator and ruler."

"Existing in its essence, an attack not only upon British enterprise but upon the right of an ordinary man or woman to breathe freely without having a harsh, clumsy and tyrannical hand clapped across their mouths and nostrils."

Professor Friedrich Hayek, in "The Road to Serfdom," specifically reminds us that "when economic power is centralized as an instrument of political power it creates a degree of dependence scarcely distinguishable from slavery," and "it has been well said that, in a country where the sole employer is the state, opposition means death by slow starvation." Small wonder hundreds of thousands of Ontario voters turned their backs on the disciples of "planned economy" yesterday.

Conscription Opposition

By GRANT DEXTER

PUBLIC OPINION IN CANADA has been sharply divided on the question of overseas conscription. The results of the plebiscite in 1942 have already been given but it would be easy to underestimate the strength of the opposition in the English-speaking provinces. Here is the vote by these provinces:

	For	Against
Ontario	1,217,604	235,350
Nova Scotia	120,382	33,048
New Brunswick	105,602	45,940
P.E.I.	23,690	4,841
Manitoba	221,198	55,725
Saskatchewan	188,116	74,371
Alberta	186,172	75,427
British Columbia	254,301	63,314

These figures should be remembered because, for the sake of brevity, this article will deal only with the opposition in French-speaking Quebec.

AT THE OUTSET of the war, the Quebec Liberals under the late Mr. Ernest Lapointe, pledged full support short of conscription. The opposition to the Liberals in Quebec—the Nationalists—were then in power in the province. This opposition, under Maurice Duplessis, promptly challenged the decision to co-operate in the war, dissolved the Legislature and asked the electorate for an anti-war mandate. The mandate would have applied not only to military but to economic war activities. Mr. Lapointe and other Liberal federal ministers promptly took the field against Mr. Duplessis, declaring that unless French Canada supported them in the war, they would resign. Duplessis was defeated and the Liberal victory was everywhere hailed as a great stroke for national unity.

The death of Mr. Lapointe in the fall of 1941 weakened the pro-war forces. In the plebiscite campaign of 1942, the anti-war element under Mr. Duplessis took the field in force and claimed the result as a vote against participation. The plebiscite broke the hitherto solid front of Quebec Liberals at Ottawa. Mr. Cardin resigned when it became clear that the government proposed to act in conformity with the plebiscite verdict. Ever since the spring of 1942, Mr. Cardin has striven to rally under his leadership the anti-conscription forces of Quebec.

MEANTIME, Mr. Duplessis had been tirelessly working to fan the anti-war sentiment into open revolt. As to his own position, he was brutally frank. Asked by Mr. Godbout in May, 1942, if he was against the war, he replied: "Yes, I have the courage to stand up and say so. I am against it."

Camille Houde, mayor of Montreal, another potential anti-war leader, defied the national government with respect to war policy and was promptly interned in 1940.

There are two aspects to this opposition in Quebec. Not only are the anti-war elements opposed to conscription but they are just as adamantly opposed to co-operation by Quebec on the economic side.

A further break in the Liberal ranks came with Bill 80 in July, 1942, when about a dozen Liberal members crossed the floor.

THE FIGHT AGAINST the war continued through 1943 and 1944. In August of 1944 Mr. Duplessis regained office, although by a narrow margin of seats and a minority of the votes. The issue in the election was the war, with the Liberals standing squarely for full co-operation short of overseas conscription and their opponents maintaining the completely anti-war position. Here is a sample of Mr. Duplessis' oratory:

"In 1938, the Liberals promised that if they were elected, conscription would never be imposed. We of the Union Nationale warned you that a scaffold was being built to hang you. I tell you that if the Union Nationale had been in power you would never have had conscription because we would have made use of our constitutional rights to prevent it."

In the conscription crisis of last November, Hon. C. G. Power resigned and on the vote most of the Quebec Liberals opposed the government. Only the constancy of Hon. Louis St. Laurent, successor to Mr. Lapointe, held the remaining Quebec ministers and members in the party.

In February, the Quebec Legislature passed a resolution as follows:

"Whereas, on November 23, last, the federal government by order-in-council enforced conscription and ordered that 18,000 recruits be sent to the various combat zones; This house ardently protests against the imposition of conscription in Canada for overseas service and extremely regrets that Mr. King has broken his most sacred pledges."

The Liberals, under Mr. Godbout, agreed in condemning overseas conscription but declared again their support for the war effort short of this measure.

THUS IT IS CLEAR that the Liberal Party, under Mr. St. Laurent and Mr. Godbout, is the only political party in French Canada today which supports the war. The Conservative Party as such does not exist in Quebec outside of the two or three English-speaking constituencies. And beyond these seats, the Conservative Party has officially declared that it either will not oppose or will support such leading figures in Quebec's fight against the war as Houde, Lacombe, Dorion and Cardin.

The case against the King government in Quebec is precisely the opposite of the case made by the Conservatives in the English-speaking provinces. The Quebecers declare that Mr. King has sold out to the warmongers. The English-speaking Conservatives affirm with equal passion that he has sold out to Quebec.

There is just this qualification: At the same time as they raise the conscription and racial cry in the English-speaking provinces, the Conservative Party publicly and deliberately is supporting the anti-war forces in Quebec. For the purposes of this record, which is only concerned with recording the opposition to the war, the point to be remembered is that the Conservatives to the extent of their power are actively strengthening the anti-war attitude of Quebec.

Letters To The Editor

WANTS NO REGIMENTATION

THE conflicting opinions expressed by the different political parties so confuses the average Canadian that one is apt to sacrifice his valued vote which means so much to all of us.

At this time one should consider the great blessings and privileges we in Canada now hold. Is there any country so advantageously placed? We do and say as we please, we have not suffered the ravages of war, we have comparatively an abundance of all things, we are truly blessed. Surely no one will deny this. Should we jeopardize our way of living for an experiment by control and regimentation?

The system under which Canada has prospered is not perfect, but it is abuse of our method of governing that is to blame, and we the people are the ones entirely responsible for allowing that.

Herding and tallying is for cattle. We are human beings living in the finest country in the whole world, free to come and go as we please. Let's stay that way and thank God we have that privilege.

—OLIVER A. TRICKETT.

THIS WAR—FOUR YEARS AGO

By The Canadian Press

June 5, 1941—Britain classed Syria and Lebanon as enemy-occupied territory. State Secretary Cordell Hull told France that Franco-German collaboration was "inimical" to the rights of the United States and other nations.

London Bomb Rubble Being Put To Use

A score of rubble heaps, some of them higher than the neighboring buildings, now dot London. They are the remains of bombed buildings, cleared away and carefully sorted. Every ounce is valuable. There are three categories of wreckage material:

wood and metal, which are salvaged to be used again where possible; rubble, which is valuable hard core for construction work; and debris, the finer grained material and dust, some of which is being used just now to raise the level of a lake in Kent, and for filling in marshes.

The rubble is reserved for work of national importance. It was used in making the Mulberry harbors for the invasion of Normandy. When the defences of London had to be shifted to meet the menace of the flying bombs, more than 100,000 tons of the rubble was carted away in trucks to make the foundations for the new gun-sites.

Rubble makes the best of all bases for runways on airdromes, and much of it has been taken for this purpose. And when Britain's new housing projects are laid out, the roadways will largely be laid on these scraps of old London.

Federal-aid highway construction started in 1940 approximated 1,000 miles annually, while 1943 construction totaled approximately 720 miles.

Rehabilitation, Duty Of Every Citizen

"Problems of peace are always greater than problems of war. In war, all are united to meet a common enemy. In peace we fall into disunity and easily forget our obligations to those who have done so much for us," said Forrest L. Shaw, chairman of Greater Victoria Rehabilitation Council, in speaking to the Overseas League on rehabilitation of men and women of the armed forces, Monday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A.

Mr. Shaw discussed rehabilitation in four different groupings: Men and women who held positions before going into the services and who may wish to improve those positions or even change to something better; men and women who had no training or no work before entering the services; boys and girls who went directly from school, and rehabilitation of war casualties. "No matter how serious the injury," he said, "every man and woman should be given the opportunity, if humanly possible, to take that position in the community he or she would have had in normal times. At the end of the last war, this would have been impossible, but modern science has changed that, and all but the most severe cases can be given a fair chance to take responsibilities."

"Fulfillment of our obligations to war veterans," Mr. Shaw concluded, "should be looked upon as the serious duty of each and every one of us as a major step in the winning of the peace."

Present Officers' Reports At Federated W.I. Meet

Practical application of the 1943-1945 slogan "Think Rationally, Work Rationally," chosen at the Toronto Biennial meeting, was shown in reports of officers of the Federated Board delivered at the 14th Biennial Board Meeting of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada in the Empress Hotel this morning.

In her presidential report, Mrs. Cameron E. Dow remarked on the interest shown by Her Royal Highness Princess Alice, who has twice visited R.C. Institutes and once visited those in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Nova Scotia.

"The favorite place which organized rural women today occupy is due largely," Mrs. Dow said, "to the foresight and energy of our patroness, Mrs. Alfred Watt, M.B.E. We shall never forget that it was through her initiative this typically Canadian organization has attained world-wide scope."

Telling of her work as Rural Advisor to the W.P.T.B., Mrs. Dow said, "Our organization is being recognized more and more as the voice of rural women. Twice ours has been the only women's organization included in a form of opinion by the Financial Post. The federation has been asked by the Royal Commission of Education to submit a brief of its opinions and recommendations to the commission."

Mrs. Dow asked that until government releases controls each member of the F.W.I.G. continue active support of the necessary rulings governing distribution of consumer supplies.

Reports were given by Mrs. E. A. Gates, recording secretary; Mrs. G. F. W. Kuhring, corresponding secretary; Marion Angus, national director of publicity.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. F. B. Townsend, showed the sum of $6,000 raised.

The Victoria Women's Institute presented the board with a bouquet of flowers in memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Bailey Price and Mrs. E. P. Duserhoef, who have passed away since the last meeting.

This afternoon, delegates will be guests of the Navy League at Prince Robert House and later, Mrs. Paul Smith will speak.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: We are three high school girls, a blonde, a brunette and a redhead, who are deeply in love with the same boy. We are so infatuated with him that we can't eat, sleep, or study because of thinking of him. He takes us out on alternate nights and says he loves us all, but he can't possibly marry all three of us. Which one of us should get him? And how should we solve our problem?

A.D.T.
Answer: Well, I should think the way to solve the problem would be to pass him up entirely and centre your affections on three different boys, instead of concentrating them on one. Also, how about alleviating your love sickness by a little study?

A SAUCE WITH REAL FLAVOUR

A FEW drops of H.P. Sauce over the meat while it is still cooking, will "better" the flavor beyond your imagination. Or season the gravy with it, and you'll notice a delightful difference in flavour.

H.P. Sauce is a welcome ally with all meats, fish, fowl, soup, gravy, egg and cheese dishes, salads and sandwiches. It's economical too because only a few drops of this fine English type sauce imparts a zestful tang to your cooking.

If you haven't acquired the "H.P." habit, give your family a new thrill in flavour. Use it in cooking and on the table. Your neighborhood grocery store stocks it. Buy a bottle of H.P. Sauce today.

SUCCESS IN SASKATCHEWAN

IN ONE YEAR...

FOR FARMERS

CANADA'S ONLY FARM SECURITY ACT: provides against loss of home quarter section and seizure of crop needed for living expenses and farm operations, in cases where the farmer cannot meet his obligations for reasons beyond his control. Moratorium in case of crop failure. First Ministry of Co-operatives in British Empire. New Marketing Act based on co-operative principles. Veterinary Services Act by which province contributes 50% of cost of veterinary services.

FOR LABOUR

A REAL TRADE UNION ACT which guarantees union security, enforces collective bargaining, outlaws company unions, outlaws unfair labour practices. The Act is clear and definite without the convenient loopholes through which anti-labour employers can wriggle—as in the case of the Government Order-in-Council No. 1003 and codes. Highest minimum wage in Canada. Highest men's compensation in Canada. Two weeks' vacation with pay.

FOR RETURNING VETERANS

New industries being started NOW for post-war employment. A Department of Reconstruction and Rehabilitation has been formed—its whole purpose to assist rehabilitation of service men and women. Farmer-veterans given added assistance to compensate for inadequate federal plans of Liberal Government.

FOR EVERYONE

HEALTH: Branch of Health Education, and Nutrition Branch, established; free diagnosis and treatment for V.D.; free diagnosis, treatment, surgery and hospitalization for Cancer; medical, surgical and hospital care, drugs and appliances for all old age and blind pensioners—including dependents, and for recipients of Mothers' Allowances and their families; financial aid to municipalities to build hospitals and to employ doctors. EDUCATION: Highest minimum wage for teachers in Canada; province-wide adult education program; large-scale assistance to rural education, grants to equalize educational costs and opportunities; University scholarships to deserving students. VOTING AGE LOWERED TO 18.

The People Everywhere Are On the March

In almost every democratic country in the world the common people are turning their backs on the old order and giving their support to parties and programs like the CCF in Canada. In Britain, the Labour Party is striking out on a democratic socialist program to rebuild their country. The Gallup Poll gives the Labour Party 48% support as against 27% for the Conservatives. In New Zealand, the Labour Government has been returned three times and is still going strong. The same is true for the Labour Government of Australia. In June of last year the people of Saskatchewan acted as the vanguard of the Canadian people as a whole. In June of this year the rest of Canada will follow suit and keep in step with the world march.

Let Us Go Forward Together!

What Saskatchewan is doing, all Canada can do. The Dominion and every province in it can have a government that fulfils its promises to the letter, quickly and intelligently, as Saskatchewan has done. Every citizen of Canada can feel—as Saskatchewan citizens feel—that he controls and directs his own destiny decently and productively, for the first time in his life.

Mayor Asks Ottawa For Facts To Plan Victoria Home Needs

Immediate attention has been promised by Ottawa to a request by Mayor George that Victoria be given some definite information regarding the numbers of servicemen, with families, likely to be sent to this area in the near future on duty, and also those who will shortly be discharged from the service intending to return to or make new homes in Victoria.

"City Council, all public bodies and citizens generally becoming increasingly alarmed about the shortage of housing accommodation for servicemen and their families in this area," Mayor

George wired the ministers of the three services.

He stated that he was requested to seek the information following a large meeting in Victoria and attended by representatives from the City Council, Chamber of Commerce, building trades, emergency shelter officials and national housing officials.

SITUATION SERIOUS

"Many local organizations, willing and anxious to do everything possible to assist the government to get a home building program underway without further loss of time. The situation is serious and I cannot stress too strongly the necessity of immediate action," concluded the mayor.

Maj. H. C. Holmes, president of the Chamber of Commerce, wrote Mayor George Monday urging consideration for a joint veteran plan-low income group housing scheme, which he felt if combined, would be a saving to the country "amounting to many tens of millions of dollars."

He outlined a meeting held with J. M. Ketchen, deputy controller of construction, and stated that the lowest number of veterans that "we should be prepared to provide housing for here is 600, that sum being not more than one-fifth and possibly only one-tenth of the number of veterans returning to Victoria."

Maj. Holmes' opinion, those 600 veterans would require housing at the rate of 100 a month or so.

He felt that local builders working on the plan would provide housing far more quickly and at a far lower cost than could be done by any central government organization.

"In my opinion great saving would be effected if we looked a little further ahead and planned these houses which are so urgently needed for veterans now but which they will not need as soon as they have re-established themselves, in such a way that the house will be suitable and of course available as the veterans leave them for the use of low income workers and pensioners."

Carrothers Going East To Study I-Man Trams

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the B.C. Public Utilities Commission, will leave here Friday for eastern Canadian and American centres to study one-man streetcar operation in connection with the inquiry now proceeding in Vancouver.

The B.C. Electric Co. has been thwarted by the Street Railwaymen's Union in putting one-man trams into service in Vancouver. An inquiry was started last week after the union had been granted leave to reopen the case. A previous ruling had approved one-man cars for Vancouver.

In the course of his tour, Dr. Carrothers will visit Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, Chicago, New York and other cities. He may continue his study in Los Angeles and San Francisco on his return to the coast.

The B.C. government by order-in-council has approved the purchase by Ernest Naud and Harold H. Thorne of 20 acres of land on Levette Lake in the New Westminster district, which will be used for a hunting and fishing lodge.

Report On Status Of Civic Pensioners

A report giving a list of all civic employees under the jurisdiction of the council, who have been retired on superannuation allowance but re-employed on a temporary basis and those who will attain maximum superannuation age in 1945, will be sought in a motion of Ald. F. A. Willis at City Council meeting this afternoon.

Ald. Ed. Williams seconded the motion which asked that the city comptroller be instructed to prepare and submit to the City Council the report.

A letter was received at a recent meeting of the fire wardens committee from the Victoria Local of the International Association of Fire Fighters, which asked members of the fire wardens committee "not to establish the policy of the fire department on a month to month basis" upon their reaching retirement age.

Monthly meeting of the Victoria and District Chrysanthemum Society will be held at the City Hall Thursday night at 8.

"What a Crosspatch"

...because I forgot one simple fact!

A SUCCESSFUL dressmaker must give careful attention to fittings and workmanship. But after each fitting I was a nervous wreck. The harder I tried to be pleasant the more impatient I became. I didn't know what to do...

Then one of my customers told me about the 30-day test. I started eating Kellogg's Bran Flakes every morning. In less than a month I found how this pleasant, simple change of diet could really help me keep fit! Now I have energy for my work and for extra things I like doing. And it's so easy to be pleasant to everybody!

Make this 30-DAY TEST

1. If you're really ill, see your doctor! But if you just feel dull and head-ache, you may only be suffering from incomplete elimination. Here's how one simple change of diet can help you keep fit:
2. Start now to eat Kellogg's Bran Flakes every morning. To keep fit the natural way, get more of the "bulk" your system needs by eating delicious, gently-laxative Kellogg's Bran Flakes With Other Parts Of Wheat.
3. Just thirty days should prove to you how grand it is to feel alert, to have the energy for all the extra things you'd like to do. You'll want to go on keeping fit the Kellogg way!

LOOK FOR the name "Kellogg's" on the golden-yellow package. Two sizes. Made in London, Canada.

KEEP FIT with Kellogg's every day in the year!

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY LABOR LEADERS SPEAK

To the Electors of British Columbia:

Full employment, social security, proper rehabilitation of servicemen and women, peace and prosperity are the aims of labor in the postwar.

The achievement of these aims is the desire of all organized labor. However, their full realization is dependent upon labor having a direct voice in government. That is why the people should elect bona fide labor representatives who are prepared to participate in a democratic government.

The federal candidates in this election, whose program and policies most closely represent and coincide with the program of organized labor, are the candidates of the Labor Progressive Party together with the independent candidates running on a labor ticket with trade union support.

We, the undersigned officers and executive members of the major trade unions of British Columbia, appeal to all members and friends of organized labor to support the candidates presented above:

C.C.F. Would Lead Canada to Serfdom, Says Gen. Pearkes

The C.C.F. is dead and has no chance of forming a government, Sir Henry Drayton, Progressive Conservative candidate in Victoria, told a meeting at Crystal Garden Monday evening. Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., Progressive Conservative candidate in Nanaimo, appearing on the same platform, said election of a C.C.F. government would lead to dictatorship and serfdom. "The C.C.F. is defeated before they commence," Sir Henry said. "What is the good of flogging a dead horse? The C.C.F. today is dead, and is going to get stiffer and stiffer all the time. They're on the decline, and they'll always be on the decline when the truth is known."

Sir Henry said C.C.F. candidate Murray Bryce was not telling the truth when he said a socialist government had wiped out the banks in New Zealand. He said the first thing Hitler and Mussolini had done was wipe out the banks and that if socialism was brought into Canada not one person could draw a cent of his deposit without the approval of Mr. Coldwell and his committee of 12.

He said Victoria should have a district income tax office.

Gen. Pearkes said election of a C.C.F. government would lead to socialism, state socialism, dictatorship and then serfdom for the individual, and with it chaos, poverty and ruin.

"That is the thing our boys have been fighting against for five long years—dictatorship," he said. "What can they think when they hear there is danger of the same sort of thing in their own country?"

He said B.C.'s forests and fisheries must be conserved and the fishing grounds must be kept "for Canadian fishermen." Before the war, he said, "our boys were driven from the fishing grounds by hordes of Japanese."

"Never again must they be allowed to come back," he said. "It's my impression the people of B.C. never want to see the Japs back here and would be just as well pleased if they left Canada altogether."

The Conservative Party, he said, is determined to look after youth and old age.

"I believe if we could pay our rural teachers a decent salary you wouldn't have so many teachers going C.C.F.," he said. "We promise to reduce the age limit for old age pensions and raise the amount of the pension."

Mrs. Frank Stead of Vancouver said the Progressive Conservatives promise not to appease one section of Canada to the detriment of another.

"Let us sweep the Dominion with a greater majority than Ontario has been swept today," she said.

George H. Gowan was chairman.

C.P.A. Wins Contract With Forest Service

Contract for two fire fighting planes to be used by the B.C. Forest Service this summer in the Prince George area has been let to Canadian Pacific Air Lines, Forests Minister E. T. Kenney said today.

C.P.A. and Hamilton Ltd. were the only firms tendering, he said. One craft will be used for patrol work and the other for transporting fire fighters and supplies to scenes of fires.

Government Survey Of Jobs Hushed Up, Says C.C.F. Candidate

FO. Murray Bryce, C.C.F. candidate for Victoria, speaking at an election rally in the Oak Bay Theatre Hall Monday night, said the results of the government survey of jobs available in private industry after the war had never been made public because they were poor. FO. Bryce also said businessmen were now cautioning that Canada could not have full employment—only high employment.

"During the war," he said, "we've accomplished a production miracle in this country. Doesn't that show us the potentialities of planning?"

In 1935 when New Zealand elected its labor government it was suffering from severe unemployment, the candidate said, but within three years the government practically ended unemployment.

Mr. Bryce said the chief methods by which unemployment was eliminated were government spending, a government-sponsored housing scheme; establishment of the greatest health scheme known in any British dominion, with the result that "the people of New Zealand today are the healthiest in the world," and the government assumes responsibility for those unable to help themselves.

Old age pensions were available in New Zealand at the age of 60, the speaker said; at Canadian prices equivalent to $80 or $100 a month. Pensioners there were allowed to own their homes and have money in the bank, he said.

"We are not advocating any form of state socialism," he said. "But the concentrated power of great monopolies must be brought under control by the people."

"You can establish public ownership of a corporation by exchanging low interest government bonds for existing private shares. The publicly-owned companies will be independent of politics and operated by boards of directors representing the government, the workers in the industry and other interested citizen groups."

MRS. S. RAYMENT

Introduced by H. G. Wyatt, chairman, Mrs. A. Percy Rayment said that if women had embraced the great opportunity offered them when they were given the vote "we might have avoided the depression and this terrible war."

Terming the C.C.F. "a party of protest," she said, "we shall not have people vulgarly rich at the top whilst we have the most appalling poverty at the bottom." "Education lags behind," she said. "Only three per cent of those passing through school ever go through university. The reason is obviously economic." H. O. Simpson, Victoria C.C.F. organizer, also spoke.

Judge L. A. Hanna For Island Rent Courts

Judge L. A. Hanna of Alberni has been appointed to hold sessions of the rental appeal court on Vancouver Island. He was in Vancouver yesterday where he sat in at a session of Judge Bruce Boyd's court.

Shipmasters Warned Of Ripple Rock Tests

Hydrographic Service, Department of Mines and Resources, will conduct current velocity tests in Seymour Narrows June 7 to 21 inclusive.

Observations will be made from a navy Fairmile type vessel which will keep its position by stemming the tidal stream. The position of the vessel will be abreast Ripple Rock, alternating between Maud Island and Ripple Rock and Vancouver Island and the rock and will remain in position one hour before and one hour after time of maximum current velocity of each tide.

Tidal streams between the above dates will be very fast transport department warns. All vessels entering Seymour Narrows during this time are urged to exercise caution.

Win Senior Shoot

Competition took place at Bay Street Armories.

NOW ONLY BRACKEN CAN WIN!

The People of Ontario Proved that Monday

Canada Will Answer

The people of Ontario have condemned at the polls petty political pandering, flouting of public opinion, disregarded plebiscites. They, like all other Canadians, want a fair deal for everybody, with government that's open and above board.

That's why the people of Ontario, who send 82 members to Ottawa, are backing Bracken and his team of Progressive Conservatives next Monday, as they voted Progressive Conservative in Ontario.

That's why other Canadians are doing the same, west and east. That's why only Bracken can win an over-all majority on June 11.

This nation's future must not be entrusted to an unholy alliance of W. L. Mackenzie King, M. J. Coldwell, Tim Buck and Maxime Raymond. Group government of this type reduced France to ineffectiveness. Do we want this in Canada?

The only alternative is a strong majority for John Bracken and his candidates.

By PETE SALLAWAY

ONE IS hard put to find adjectives to describe that smashing soccer triumph Saturday of the underdog Victoria West over the mighty St. Saviours, in the semifinal round of the Province Cup. Surprise team of the recently-closed local campaign that upset—and it was an upset despite the confidence of many Wests' supporters—was a fitting climax to a great season. Whether or not the green-shirts can go on to scale the heights against North Shore in the final Saturday on the mainland is another matter. Regardless of the outcome of that match the Wests have carved their own little niches in local soccer and their success to date is sufficient to earn them the admiration of Victoria's soccer followers.

GREATEST factor in the success of the Victoria West club this season has been its team spirit. Since the club returned to league play, after two years absence, there has been a feeling of "we're never beaten" among the players. It was always evident in matches against the V.M.D. and in Saturday's game the boys in green literally played their hearts out in that last 30 minutes as the proud champions of the Pacific Coast League threw everything into a desperate effort to tie the score. Then again the Wests prevailed in the face of a string of player injuries, that would have knocked the heart out of many clubs. They saw their line-up riddled through the loss of such players as Eddie Gibson, Roy Barnes, Noel Morgan, Charlie Bestell and Harold Sage but carried on to further triumphs. It would be a great climax if the Victoria West could win the British Columbia championship but regardless of whether they win or lose the green-shirts rightly deserve: "Well done Wests."

WHEN SHORTSTOP Charley Strouger of the V.M.D. pulled that "fast" play on the R.C.A.F. in Saturday night's ball game to catch the Flyers, umpires and majority of fans unawares it was not something new in baseball. Looking over a recent edition of Knotty Problems I found the identical play described. The answer to the question was that if a player could catch the opposition asleep and force them to retire the same player twice that was that. There is nothing in the rule book to cover such a situation and there is no penalty. Talking to Strouger after the game he told me he had pulled the same trick several years ago while playing for Courtenay. "I never thought it would work but in a tight ball game it's always worth a try, especially if a runner is in scoring position."

BILL BRIDGEWOOD certainly got a hot baptism in his first appearance as an umpire behind the plate. The veteran ball player is colorful, to say the least, and I don't blame him for sticking to his runs after thumping catcher Cliff Kilburn out of the game. An umpire must have control of the players otherwise he will be continually in hot water. The Flyers were entitled to protest the call on the batted ball but carried their arguments too far. No team is going to get very far protesting an umpire's decision. He has the final word unless he pulls a "bone" in his interpretation of the rules.

English Derby Round-up

Midas Solid Favorite

NEWMARKET, Eng. (AP)—The Derby, known this year as the "Victory Derby" although it will be run in its wartime home June 9, will be Europe's richest race since Blue Peter won the same event in 1939 at Epsom Downs. Twenty-nine colts have entered in the English turf's annual blue ribbon event following easing of transportation curbs by the ministry of war transport after the defeat of Germany.

Bookmakers report that the public is making the race the occasion for real plunging and that bets of £125 (about $550) and upward—as well as the customary 10s transactions—are pouring into their offices daily. Lord Rosebery's Midas, which won the Newmarket Stakes last week is one of the stronger favorites. The price on this colt has been forced down to 7 to 1.

The King's Ride Light also is attracting much interest and his price has been opened from 100 to 25 to 1.

High Peak, owned jointly by Lady Derby and Lady Irwin; Chamossaire, property of Sqdn. Ldr. Sidney Joel, and Dorothy Paget's Sun Storm are others drawing early attention. RICHES STAKE This year's winner will receive $31,356—$7,732 more than Lord Rosebery received for Ocean Swell's triumph a year ago. The entire British racing picture looks brighter now that the transport ministry permits horses to be moved greater distances to compete in events. The same ministry also has given the Jockey Club permission to increase the number of racing dates. The Derby was brought to Newmarket, 90 miles from London, at the start of the war. It is hoped that it will be returned to Epsom Downs, 19 miles from here, next season.

WINNIEG (CP)—Dominion championships in women's golf will not be revived this year, Mrs. E. Crockett of Toronto, president of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, said here Monday. She said in an interview "most provincial associations haven't even started to think about tournament golf." Last championships were held in 1939.

Sheet Metal And Bays Score Wins In Fastball Tilts

Strikingly dressed in their green and gold outfits, the Hudson's Bay fastball girls were out in full force to defeat the V.M.D. nine 22 to 3, Monday night at Central Park.

Bays' pitcher Newton featured their attack, hitting a home run with the bases loaded. Errors proved costly to the V.M.D. while the Bays found their hurler for 17 hits, with Newton giving up only seven.

A twin bill is scheduled for tonight at Central Park with Joe Posters vs. R.C.A.F. and Bacpo Paint vs. Clerks' Union.

In a men's senior B game pitcher Eddie Redder was the whole show as Pacific Sheet Metal turned back the Eagles 5 to 3. Redder hurled great five-hit ball and in the ninth inning smashed a home run with one aboard to give his club a victory. Previously he had clouted three doubles and was responsible for driving in all his team's five runs.

Except for the third inning when the Eagles got two runs on a pair of singles and triple Redder shut out ball. The third run off him in the seventh came as the result of a pair of errors.

In a juvenile game, KV's defeated the Thistles, 22 to 17.

Navy Win Ball Game

Bruce, Walker Star

Sparked by those two hard-hitting outfielders, Gil Bruce and Jack Walker, Navy marked up an 11 to 5 victory over the Eagles in Monday night's ball game. Triumph moved the blue-jackets, last year's city champions, into a tie with the R.C.A.F. for second spot behind the pace-setting V.M.D.

Bruce had his best session of the season at the plate with a perfect evening, four for four, including a triple, while Walker picked up three for five.

Putting across three runs in the first inning on a pair of singles, sacrifice, infield and Bruce's triple the Navy were away out in front. Eagles came back with two runs in their half and each club scored a pair in the third. Single scores in the fifth, sixth and seventh and a three-run rally in the ninth completed the Navy scoring while the Eagles could get only one more run in the sixth.

Don Johnson was the winning pitcher, giving up nine hits while striking out three and walking a like number. Arnold Ellis started for the Eagles but had to retire after three innings with a sore arm to be replaced by Harold Loveall. Ellis was charged with the defeat as he gave up six hits and five runs during his mound trip.

Amputees Give Gray New Fielding Trick

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pete Gray learned a new trick about playing the outfield from amputees at Walter Reed Hospital recently.

The one-armed St. Louis Brown star who once played at Three Rivers, Que., was showing a class of veterans in the hospital's new gymnasium how he catches the ball, then throws it.

With manager Luke Sewell tossing short flies, Pete caught the ball in his loosely-held glove, which he quickly dropped, then rolled the ball across his chest and grasped it for the throw.

That's all right on ordinary flies, but how about tough ones hit to your backhand side, the amputees wanted to know.

Pete made a few backhand stabs... that wasn't so difficult for him—but the amputees weren't satisfied.

"Why don't you take a full basketball pivot and then throw?" They suggested. "It would give you more power."

Pete tried it a few times. It worked fine.

City to Keep Willows; Council Favors Exhibition

Continuance of the annual exhibitions at Willows grounds as soon as circumstances permit, sought in a motion of Ald. H. M. Diggon, was favored by city council following lengthy debate on whether to keep the property or offer it for sale, at council meeting Monday.

A motion of Ald. F. A. Willis, that the city building inspector be instructed to arrange for a survey of the Willows grounds, with a view to comprehensive plans being prepared for extensions and improvements as part of general plans for post-war development, also carried. Seven opposed offering the Willows for sale and three favored it.

Question of rebuilding of the Horse Show building destroyed by fire was referred to the executive of the B.C. Agricultural Association for a report.

"The Willows grounds can be made a valuable asset to the city of Victoria and it would be a mistake to call for tenders for sale of the grounds," Ald. Diggon stated after Ald. Willis advised council to declare itself one way or the other with regard to the grounds.

"Once that goes, the city would never have such a stretch of land near its boundaries for a race track, exhibition or any large gathering. Let's turn the Willows into something the city can be proud of," Ald. Diggon continued.

FAVORS SALE

Ald. Ed. Williams told council, after opening the discussion on the matter, that he was in favor of offering the Willows grounds for sale, and if the offer was what the city expected, to sell it. He said the municipality of Oak Bay had put a price on the grounds.

"The Reeve of Oak Bay last year said the property was a blot on Oak Bay; they wanted to develop it for town planning and housing," Ald. Williams said, as he spoke of the property being in another municipality.

"We could do a big job on beautification of our waterfront with the money that would be spent on the Willows; I would far rather see Oak Bay buy the Willows and we could put the money to beautifying our waterfront, which is Victoria's front door. I am not opposing where they hold it."

Ald. B. J. Gadsden said the Willows was a loss and added that he thought the new council was laying the foundation for a "spending spree." He maintained that $65,000 would not be one-tenth of the money needed for work at the Willows. Ald. Willis closed the discussion with a motion that Oak Bay be informed the Willows grounds were not for sale. Ald. T. W. Hawkins said he felt it would be a great mistake to let the Willows go and Ald. F. G. Mullner told council that every city of any size had an exhibition.

ARENA COMMITTEE

F. E. Winslow, trustee of the Citizen's Arena Committee wrote that, with regards to the suggestion that the committee sell bonds to be issued by the city under the arena by-law, the members felt that such was not their obligation. A letter of appreciation from Mayor Percy George on the Greater Victoria Memorial Day Service arranged by Ald. W. H. Davies and his committee, was endorsed by council.

Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Association thanked the city council on the opening of pre-primary classes in various districts of the city and expressed the hope that more would be opened shortly. Health committee under Ald. Mullner, acting chairman, recommended that the city council authorize the Medical Health Officer to employ a public health nurse for the city health department from October 1, 1945 with the sum of $396, of which $150 would be salary, to be set aside to cover monthly expenses. Council adopted the recommendation.

Wednesday, June 13. They will leave the City Hall at 10.30 in the morning. His Worship appointed Judge H. H. Shandley, H. G. S. Heisterman, Ald. H. M. Diggon and W. P. D. Pemberton to the Jubilee Hospital Board of Directors. Salvation Army were given the annual grant of $250. Application from W. J. Cull for renewal of the concession at Royal Athletic Park was granted.

Resolution of the Victoria and District Zone Council, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., that the Memorial Day Committee be asked to make suitable representations to the proper authorities for the establishment and maintenance of a veterans' burial park in this area, received council's endorsement. Resignation of William R. Yule, as foreman of the blacksmith and repair shops of the city to take effect July 31, was accepted and Aldermen J. A. Worthington and Ed. Williams paid tribute to his work. Mr. Yule has been with the city for 37 years.

Recommendation of the Fire Wardens committee that the B.C. Fire Company Ltd. be allowed to install toilet facilities in the Burnside Fire Hall, was adopted by council.

Request from the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks committee for $500 from the city for work on property which they hope to acquire adjoining Cadboro Bay Beach, for a public park and playground, was referred to the committee and city engineer G. M. Irwin for a report. Ald. Worthington spoke in favor of the grant but Ald. H. M. Diggon felt that if any money were to be spent it should be on a 50-50 basis with Saanich. The committee stated they would ask Saanich for a proportionate $200. Ald. Diggon spoke of other work to be done and Ald. Gadsden remarked that the bath house at the Gorge was in a deplorable condition. Ald. Gadsden reported on the B.C. Provincial Air Conference at Kamloops, which he attended as the city's representative.

ACCEPT INVITATION

The mayor and council accepted an invitation from the Department of National Defence to have Luncheon and tour the No. 1 Conditioning Centre at Gordon Head,

No Action Taken On Bus Service Offer

Recommendation of the transportation committee, that the Veterans' Sightseeing and Transportation Company be advised that no action could be taken on their offer of provision of a bus service in the Gonzales and Fairfield districts, at the moment, was adopted by City Council at its meeting Monday.

In its recommendation, however, the committee added that as soon as conditions permit "it is the intention of the City Council to call for tenders for the provision of a new and up-to-date transportation service to serve properly the whole city."

The recommendation was made: "In view of the investigations now being made regarding acquisition of the B.C.E.R. Company holdings in Victoria and mainland cities and the possibility that all these utilities may be publicly owned in the near future." It mentioned "keeping in mind the fact that the recently formed B.C. Power Commission is now surveying the whole field of electric power requirements in the province, which has a direct bearing on the transportation question."

The committee also considered the fact that there was a gentlemen's agreement between the local transportation companies to allow present services to stand until the war was over or until the necessary equipment was available for new services. Ald. T. W. Hawkins is chairman of the transportation committee.

New Names Cause Council Frowns

Raised eyebrows and not a few frowns met the recommendation of the public works committee at city council meeting Monday, that council offer no objections to a number of new names for streets in the Sooke district.

The recommendation, which was adopted by council, was in response to a request from the Provincial Department, and the names mentioned were: Celadon, Dover, Larwill, Harwick Lane, Solent, Terret, Water, Lanark, Mavor, Pibroch, Malden and Norton.

"Judging from the frowns on the aldermanic faces, they don't understand the object of the names," said Ald. Ed. Williams, chairman of the public works committee. "The desire is to have no duplication of street names."

Difficulty experienced by postal authorities when, for example a street in the city and one in an adjoining municipality have the same name was mentioned by Ald. Williams. Ald. T. W. Hawkins feared that the name Celadon might be mistaken over the telephone in the event of a fire call for Caledonia, but council felt that there was sufficient difference in the spellings.

Council adopted a recommendation of the committee that two new trucks be purchased. Both are International K5 trucks with 1½ to 2 ton capacity, one costing $1,776 and the other $1,711. Both trucks are to be purchased from Thomas Plimley Ltd. Ald. Williams did not approve the recommendation from his committee.

Recommendations that a man be granted permission to make a fill at the end of Turner Street, that shrubs near Simcoe and Government streets be removed and that the owner of the property at the southwest corner of Foul Bay Road and Oak Bay Avenue be offered the sum of $1,200, $600 payable by the city and $600 payable by the municipality of Oak Bay, for moving his building to a new location and conveying to the city the necessary land for street widening, were adopted by council.

Appointment of W. J. Hooper as foreman of the Garbage Department, recommended by the committee, was adopted by council. The city engineer will be instructed to notify the owner of a lot on Runnymede Avenue to move his fence off the street.

NOT RETROACTIVE

Sale of lots totaling $2,038 was approved. A man in the R.C.A.F. who purchased a lot costing $750 prior to the inauguration by council of the 75 per cent discount off the assessed value of vacant city lots to servicemen requested that the discount be retroactive.

The city solicitor gave his opinion that there was no power under which grants or discounts could be given on sales contracts which had already been entered into. Ald. H. M. Diggon stated, however, that though the council had not the power to make the discount retroactive, there was nothing to stop the man from purchasing a city lot under the new scheme for servicemen and sell the other lot.

Year Since D-Day Recalls Canada's Part In Victory

HISTORIC LANDING JUNE 6, 1944—Pictorial record of Canadian troops making their way through the invasion coasts of Normandy. One Canadian sailor is shown handing a bicycle to a soldier just leaving an L.C.T. of the Canadian navy. Jammed in the open hold along the gangways on each side of the landing craft are seen other soldiers ready for their turn to go ashore in France, headed for Germany and victory.

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY (CP)—For 11 months from D-Day to VE-Day, Canadians fought on the western front, battling on the soil of four countries in some of the bloodiest actions in Europe.

Caen, the Schelde and the Hochwald were the most important, prolonged and bitter battles in the long struggle to victory with Gen. Eisenhower's Allied team. The campaign carried them across France, Belgium and Holland into Germany.

It began with the D-Day assault at Courseulles and Bernieres on the Normandy coast. It ended with the liberation of Amsterdam, Rotterdam, The Hague and occupation of Wilhelmshaven and Emden, two great German ports.

CLEARED PORTS

Fighting always along the English Channel or the North Sea coast, the Canadians had some of the most unenviable tasks on the western front. They had to clear ports to gain bases for further Allied advances. They had the polder (reclaimed land) fighting in Holland. They fought in the scorched wheatfields of Normandy and in the dank Reichswald and H. hvald beside the Rhine. They had to undertake a dozen major amphibious operations. They attacked over floodland and endless canals, dikes and rivers. Probably no other force in the west faced such physical obstacles.

The 2nd and 3rd Infantry Divisions and the 4th Armored Division and the 2nd Armored Brigade were in the fight; together from Caen to Germany's unconditional surrender.

The 1st Polish Armored Division also served with them most of the way in the 1st Canadian Army under the command of Gen. H. D. G. Crerar. All divisions of the British 2nd Army served under his command at different times as well as three U.S. divisions and Belgian, French and Netherlands units. But over the long, hard haul the hard core of the army was Lt. Gen. G. G. Simonds' 2nd Canadian Corps, which always included the three Canadian divisions and the armored brigade.

CAEN TO FALAISE

This magnificent corps made the successful attack from Caen to Falaize which broke the enemy's hinge position. It led the Canadian Army drive along the Channel coast to Belgium. It carried out the Schelde operation and fought in the Hochwald line beside the Rhine in the late winter offensive of 1945. It finished its fighting in northwest Germany in peat bog country and along the Kusten Canal south of Emden and Wilhelmshaven.

In the final stage of the European struggle, the 1st Corps under Lt. Gen. Charles Foulkes came from Italy to rejoin the 1st Canadian Army and it carried out a Netherlands operation which drove the Germans into fortress Holland, where they surrendered in a general collapse.

The campaign started with the savage fighting on the Normandy beaches June 6, 1944, when the 3rd Division and units of the 2nd Armored Brigade went ashore as part of the 1st British Corps of the British 2nd Army.

It was a narrow beachhead and for several hectic and uncertain weeks these Canadians fought stubbornly on their sector of the beachhead perimeter northwest of Caen. German S.S. and Panzer forces tried desperately to break through to the beaches, but failed.

Terrific battles raged at Bretteville, Villons des Buissons, Authie and other shattered Normandy villages along the Caen-Bayeux highway. Canadian casualties were used up and finally some earmarked for the 2nd Division which was coming in later were put in the line to fill the gaps in the 3rd.

STRENGTH BUILT UP

Despite terrific gales in the Channel, the 2nd Army built up its strength and in late June the offensive from the beachhead began. The 8th Brigade of the 3rd Division attacked and captured Carpiquet, just west of Caen. For five days the brigade held on to its long finger of a salient stuck out across Carpiquet airfield and the Germans could not dislodge it.

Then the 2nd Army launched an all-out attack which captured Caen. Two British divisions and the other two brigades of the 3rd Canadian Division took the city. Throughout July there was bitter fighting immediately beyond Caen and the Ome River. Gen. Simonds' 2nd Corps first became operational under the 2nd Army and the British-Canadian forces slowly won elbow space south of Caen.

The Germans knew that once they lost their grip on the pivotal Caen sector the whole Normandy front would collapse. They packed troops into the defence lines south of Caen, astride the long highway to Falaize. For weeks the fighting raged with the Canadians punching out at towns like May-sur-Orne, Tilly la Campagne and Rouenacourt. Casualties were high again.

The Royal Highland Regiment of Canada (Black Watch) of Montreal, was practically wiped out in one attack. The Calgary Highlanders suffered heavily. So did the South Saskatchewan Regiment, the Essex Scottish, the North Nova Scotia Highlanders, and the Lincoln and Welland. The Fusiliers Mont Royal and Maisonneuve made great sacrifices.

GRIM WEEKS

They were grim, depressing weeks with Canadian infantry and tank crews paying a terrible price to keep up the pressure at Caen which was necessary in the overall strategy to aid the breakthrough of U.S. forces further west at St. Lo.

In early August the 1st Canadian Army took the field as an army. The 2nd Corps south of Caen came under its command along with the 1st British Corps in the line east and northeast of Caen.

Gen. Crerar's orders from Field Marshal Montgomery were to break the Caen hinge by punching through to Falaize and beyond. Gen. Crerar gave the 2nd Corps the spearhead role.

On the night of Aug. 7-8 it attacked after heavy bombers had plastered the path of advance and a roaring artillery barrage followed up the planes. Columns of the 2nd Armored Brigade with infantry of the formidable 2nd Division in armored troop carriers being used for the first time struck south astride the Falaize highway.

By dawn they were through the enemy's screens. They held the slope of Rouenacourt and Fontenay. Gen. Crerar sent the 3rd Division south to mop up in the wake of the 2nd and turned loose the 4th Canadian and 1st Polish Armored Divisions. More than 300 tanks churned over the brown slopes and fields in gigantic clouds of dust and smoke. They swept through half a dozen towns, overran more German gun and mortar positions and were well on the home stretch to Falaize when German S.S. troops were thrown in against the armor.

By an almost miraculous effort the enemy lined up another gun screen five miles north of Falaize. Tanks were hurled against Canadians and Poles. The Poles were embroiled in a dogfight on the left flank and slowed down. The spearhead of the 4th Division smashed into terrific resistance on Hill 195. Two regiments fought there until they were decimated. The drive to Falaize was halted.

SPEED FACTOR

Another attack was mounted rapidly. No time could be lost. It was made in mid-afternoon a week later after another 1,900-bomber raid in close support. Some of the bombing was short. Some Canadian troop concentrations were bombed by mistake, but the attack went on. Three hundred tanks poured over the Laison River valley northeast of Falaize followed by 3rd Division infantry in armored carriers.

On slopes south of the valley the battle was joined and fighting raged for four days. Meanwhile the 2nd Division hooked through the hilly, wooded Laize River valley northwest of Falaize to descend on the town.

Falaize was captured by the 2nd Division and the rest of the corps—the Poles, the 4th and 3rd Divisions—rushed on to Trun, southeast of Falaize.

In that area the 1st Canadian Army linked with the U.S. 3rd and the escape gap for the Germans was closed. In the greatest debacle on the western front, the 7th German Army was destroyed. The pursuit of other German forces across France followed.

The Allies could see the prospect of victory in Europe by fall. But the Germans showed amazing recuperative powers.

Culhane Says People Proud of Record

Canadians are proud of their skill and ability and proud of their record in organizing the people and leading the peoples' struggles for relief, for jobs and against fascist aggression over the period 1933-1945," Garry Culhane, Labor Progressive candidate for Victoria, told a meeting here. Alex Sholdra, secretary of the Ukrainian Canadian Association, also spoke.

Mr. Culhane displayed a C.C.F. pamphlet indicting the L.P.P. for "changing its line" from time to time.

"Six simple stages, the C.C.F. calls this period," Mr. Culhane continued. "People who could call that period of our history a simple period are themselves simple. In 1933 we were leading the fight for the unemployed, for jobs, and pointing out how capitalism could provide jobs and an abundant life. We said there was no necessity for prevailing conditions."

"We pointed out the danger of Hitler's fascism and its true nature. In this country and throughout Europe it was the Communists who warned of the inevitability of war, and who mobilized the peoples' movement against war, for collective security. We fought against appeasement and did everything in our power to maintain peace in the world."

Esquimalt Seeks Transportation Improvements

Referring to the increase of naval men in the district, Council J. A. Ellis moved at Esquimalt Council meeting Monday night, that the municipality approach the B.C. Electric Railway Co. requesting better transportation service.

Council passed the resolution and agreed to send a letter to the company, to be followed up by a personal interview by Reeve Thomas Hadfield. Councilors sought more buses and more frequent service.

Recommendation for some grading, basketball racks and a couple of new swings for a play area between Ellery Street and Colville Road opposite Carrie Street, was made by Councilor G. R. Guillemaud and the council referred the matter to the parks and playgrounds committee for a report and action, if they considered it necessary.

"About 25 to 50 children gather at these grounds every evening and the neighbors and children have cut the grass, with men residents of the area contributing two hours each last Sunday during a working bee, to fix up the grounds," he said, as he sought council assistance for the residents.

GORGE ROAD

The council agreed to the expenditure of $385 for rough grading a road in the new Gorge subdivision.

Annual grant of $50 to the Salvation Army was made and Reeve Hadfield was appointed Esquimalt representative on the Royal Jubilee Hospital board of directors.

Canadian Aid to Russia Fund were granted permission to hold a tag day June 16. No action was taken on a letter from the sub-committee of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council on emergency housing for ex-service men's families, for the reeve pointed out that Esquimalt already had 275 wartime houses.

A request by Les Palmer Ltd., naval tailor for an option on corner lots at Esquimalt and Admirals Road, was received and filed. The council endorsed a resolution forwarded by the Citizens' Memorial Day committee of Greater Victoria, which sought a veterans' burial park in this area.

Endorsement was given the city council resolution expressing admiration for the crew of the St. Roch. W. J. Parry, an Esquimalt man, was one of the crew on the first voyage, Reeve Hadfield said. An offer of $85 for a lot was accepted from W. J. Passmore. Also accepted was an offer of $50 for a lot from Mrs. Ruth Hinchison.

Recounting a series of incidents dealing with the balloons, the paper said the bombs were found in a timbered area by woodsmen. One was an incendiary. The other a small fragmentation bomb.

The find was not reported to authorities for 10 days, the account said. Meanwhile the woodsmen "flooded" with the bombs and later, officials reported, children even removed the arming device and detonator from the fragmentation missile.

Luckily, neither bomb exploded and the children escaped the fate of five children and a woman who were killed near Lakeview, Ore., May 5, when they found one of the balloons and accidentally detonated an explosive.

The article said airplane interception was used in some instances and some of the balloons were shot down. On one occasion a plane was on "standby" when a balloon was spotted, but the big bag was too high—40,000 feet—and the plane wasn't sent up.

The Chronicle's account of balloon activity was looked over by the office of censorship, which "raised no objection to its publication."

The newspaper listed these other incidents in connection with the balloons.

A sheriff disposed of one with a tracer bullet from a rifle, but it was a "hair-raising experience." When the tracer hit, the hydrogen-filled bag exploded, sending a flame high into the air. An alert farmer "captured" one

Vic. High Elects Officers

DAVID STOCK

IRENE WILSON

David Stock, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Stock, 3143 Cedar Hill Road, has been elected president of the Students Council at Victoria High School for next year.

After attending public school at Oaklands he went to Victoria High School where he has maintained a high scholastic standing with many varied extra-curricular activities.

Irene Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Wilson, 3133 Delta Street, is the new president of the Red Cross at Victoria High. After the splendid success of this year's school bazaar which raised $2,600, the school is looking forward to an even better and even more successful year.

Margaret Greasy, was elected vice-president, Yvonne Taylor and Rose Lee secretaries and Geoff Ford and Fred Bevis treasurers. These students were elected from grade eleven.

The Red Cross program set for next year accents better health in the youth of today with most money raised to go for reconstruction and rehabilitation in Europe.

To aid in the better health plan, the swimming club which started this year under the leadership of Miss C. Horn and which has been continued by Miss Ella Creighton and Ina Salmon, will be an important factor. Many of the students who cannot swim are taught the fundamentals and correct breathing methods.

Next year it is hoped that all these students will learn life saving under the direction of Miss Joan Langdon, Olympic swimming champion who has been appointed to the staff. This year some students have qualified for their bronze and intermediate awards in lifesaving.

Ina Salmon, a student of the school, having already qualified for her bronze and intermediate, was tested for her silver and instructor's awards. For the silver award she was required to swim 200 yards breaststroke, backstroke and freestyle fully dressed. She was then required to undress in the water and perform a number of stunts which included sculling and a 35-foot dive. For her instructor's award she prepared eight students for their bronze and intermediate exam in land drills, water drills, resuscitation and the theory of lifesaving. The student officers of the swimming club are Kay Doherty and Delba Labb.

Officials of organizations responsible for dealing with Canada's west coast defences gave assurance today that they are ready to handle any situation that may occur.

John Frederick Witty, 84, who gave the name to Witty's Lagoon, famous sandy beach on the Metochin shoreline across from Victoria, died Monday at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

A native of Friday Harbor, San Juan Island, Mr. Witty had been a resident of Victoria and district all his life.

The funeral, in charge of Sands Mortuary, will take place Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 in St. Mary's Church, Metochin, Rev. H. M. Bolton officiating. The cemetery in which Mr. Witty will be laid to rest, was donated by him to the church some years ago.

Victoria Needs A Community Centre, Says Art Director

An outdoor reading room built in the form of a natural amphitheatre where the audience sits on the grass, containing a public library and art museum with collections of not only books but gramophone records, sheet music, films and pictures, which are loaned out to people is envisioned for Victorians by Richard Crouch, director of the London, Ont., Public Library and Art Museum.

"We've been experimenting with unifying all the various cultural agencies from the point of view of the public library with the idea of making all these educational advantages available to all—like the public library with books," he said.

Mr. Crouch said that besides the usual library London's community art centre contained a series of galleries for art and handicraft exhibitions and workrooms for crafts and sketch clubs. There was an auditorium used largely for music, lectures, films and radio discussions. And there were a series of club rooms free for the use of all organizations in the community.

A complete children's department and an outdoor reading room for story hours and reading clubs in the summer were also mentioned by Mr. Crouch. The outdoor amphitheatre idea was "very applicable to Victoria," he said. In London record concerts were held regularly and chamber music groups played there.

Particularly interested in British Columbia's regional library development, which he termed "a unique contribution to the development of library service in Canada," Mr. Crouch will visit the Fraser Valley to investigate the union libraries for Ontario.

Mr. Crouch will attend a dinner meeting with the Victoria Library Board at the Empress Hotel, followed by a meeting of representatives of the Canadian Federation of Artists.

Drew Flying West For Federal Battle

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Drew of Ontario vanished from Toronto today on the heels of the resounding Progressive Conservative victory in Monday's Ontario election and left word he would speak in Winnipeg tonight and in Vancouver Wednesday night in support of the Progressive Conservative Party in the campaign for the June 11 Dominion election.

"The federal issue is exactly the same as was decided in Ontario," the Premier said in a statement before taking a plane for Winnipeg. "The issue is the same because the Dominion Liberal Party through its open acceptance of support of the Communists has bound itself to the Socialist doctrine which is opposed to the principles of the Progressive Conservative Party."

The Premier will return to Toronto after his Vancouver speech and will speak at a Progressive Conservative rally at which John Bracken, federal leader, also will speak.

Fighting Beach Fire

A small party of city firemen are still fighting a beach fire which was first reported Sunday morning at Horseshoe Bay, and is expected to be completely extinguished this afternoon.

The fire department impresses it is an offence to light a fire within the city limits, and it was pointed out that a danger existed in the possibility of a beach fire extending a considerable distance through driftwood on the beaches.

Firemen believe the beach fire at Horseshoe Bay may have been started by carelessness when someone left an illegally-lighted fire burning on the beach.

Council Praises Fire Department

Victoria's Fire Department received a hearty pat on the back from city council, at its meeting Monday, when it referred to data assembled by the National Fire Protection Association, showing Victoria to have an average yearly fire loss of $46 per person, compared with the per capita loss of $3.24 for the whole of Canada and $2.56 for the United States.

Fire Wardens committee headed by Ald. H. M. Diggon, recommended that council convey to Fire Chief Alex Munroe and through him to members of the department, the thanks of council for the department's excellent record. The recommendation was adopted unanimously.

The National Fire Protection Association survey covered 595 cities of more than 20,000 population and Victoria ended the year with a total fire loss of $40,959. Data indicated that the 397 building fires which broke out in the year were quickly controlled, keeping the average loss down to $103 compared with $518 in other cities, council learned.

Citizens' Arena Committee recommended an exchange of property owned by the city at 910 Pandora Avenue and payment of $2,500 for property at the corner of Blanshard and Caledonia. It was adopted.

A motion of Ald. J. A. Worthington that a meeting of municipal representatives, city and provincial health officers, reeves and with the mayor in the chair, be called to consider the advisability of forming a Greater Victoria Metropolitan Health Board, carried unanimously.

Ald. F. G. Mulliner moved that "the provincial government be asked to take the responsibility of paying for illegitimate children born in this province, when the mothers are residents of other provinces and make some arrangement with such provinces for reimbursement for the care of such children." The motion carried.

Ald. Mulliner said that municipalities in which public hospitals are situated are being asked to care for the illegitimate children of mothers who have come from points outside of the province and have either refused or failed to remove their children from the hospital.

Motion of Ald. F. A. Willis that the city comptroller be asked to prepare and submit a list of the civic employees under the jurisdiction of the city council, who, retired on superannuation allowance have been rehired on a temporary basis and to a list of those employees reaching superannuation age in 1945, carried.

W. H. M. Haldane and H. M. Fraser have been granted permission by provincial order-in-council to consolidate 10 placer mine leases in the Cariboo district.

VICTORIANS SHOULD ATTEND!

HEAR IAN MACKENZIE

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA REPRESENTATIVE IN THE MACKENZIE KING CABINET

TONIGHT, AT THE SIROCCO

1037 VIEW STREET—AT 8.00

By all means we think Victorians should attend! Hear and see the Honorable and gallant Ian piped into the hall. Hear him thunder out explanations and excuses he has to offer for the record of the Mackenzie King Government. Hear him tell how the Mackenzie King Liberals won the war! Hear him tell how he relieved the housing situation in Victoria, by moving the headquarters of the Army and Air Force to his home constituency; hear him take the credit for the ship-building industry, for the new Military Hospital so long overdue.

Attend early, before the faithful pack the meeting! The hall is entirely too small to accommodate the Victorians who should see and hear the Minister, who remained silent during the manpower debate!

Question him regarding that and other vital issues. Ask him if he will promise to return the headquarters of the Army to Work Point and the Navy to Esquimalt, and the Air Force headquarters to Victoria or Pat Bay. Ask him about Christie Street Hospital.

Never mind the music and the entertainment. What Victorians want to know about are the facts.

Remember, a vote for Mayhew is a vote for Mackenzie King and the Honorable and gallant Ian! A vote for Drayton, the popular candidate, is a vote for John Bracken and his forward, forthright policy for a united Canada.

It's Donald Crisp's story and he swears it's true.
His small terrier, Velvet, given to him while he was in M.G.M.'s "National Velvet," the new technicolor film starring Mickey Rooney which is now at the Capitol Theatre, doesn't get along with a neighbor's three cats. The first time the dog and cats encountered each other, there was snarling, hissing and the makings of a good fight. But, Crisp insists, he had Velvet so well trained

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES

Her name may be Lady Korda in real life but on the set of "Dark Waters" they called her "Iron Woman" Oberon. Miss Oberon, one of the stars of the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres through United Artists release, suffers more for her art in this picture than in any one she has yet appeared. Among other misadventures, Miss Oberon gets scared to death throughout the entire picture, falls down stairs twice, gets into mud up to her neck, does a whole sequence under water, gets tangled up with a batch of water chestnuts which nearly strangle her, struggles on a balcony with Thomas Mitchell and to cap the climax gets rough-housed by Franchot Tone, who eventually winds up as her lover.

ATLAS THEATRE

One of the most outstanding casts ever assembled will be seen in 20th Century-Fox's magnificent filmization of A. J. Cronin's best-seller, "The Keys of the Kingdom," which is now at the Atlas Theatre.
Gregory Peck, Hollywood's newest screen sensation, is seen in the role of Francis Chisholm, the picture's central character. Other important roles are played by such stellar stars as Thomas Mitchell, Vincent Price, Rosa Stradner, Roddy McDowall, Edmund Gwenn, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Peggy Ann Garner and Jane Ball.

YORK THEATRE

Bob Milton, who has been Don Ameche's stand-in and secretary ever since Don arrived in Hollywood, has at last won his first movie role. William Wellman, the director, chose him to play one of Ginger Rogers' "boy friends" in "Roxie Hart," the 20th Century-Fox satirical comedy currently at the York Theatre.
Milton tried out for the role against several seasoned veterans, and his success was a source of gratification to his benefactor, Don Ameche. Adolphe Menjou and George Montgomery top the featured cast of "Roxie Hart."

CADET THEATRE

Veteran screen star Walter Huston recently celebrated his 42nd year as an actor and his 15th year on the screen.
And he marked the occasion by working all day at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, where he was portraying one of the starring roles in "Dragon Seed," film version of Pearl S. Buck's noted novel which is now at the Cadet Theatre.

RIO THEATRE

The hilarious comedy, "San Diego, I Love You," is at the Rio Theatre.
The picture, which co-stars the extremely attractive Louise Allbritton with handsome Jon Hall, has such additional first-rate comedians in it as Edward Everett Horton, Eric Blore, Buster Keaton and a host of others.

that when she passed the cats she "made faces at them" without even a bark, then looked to her master for approval.

Tells How N.S.S. Works for Veterans

Outlining re-establishment and employment of war veterans at the Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon, Monday, C. A. Mudge, Victoria National Selective Service manager, said there are two offices looking after returned men and women. They are the Department of Veterans Affairs in the Belmont Building and the National Selective Service office.

In the former rehabilitation grants and general welfare are arranged. All matters pertaining to employment are dealt with at Selective Service. Only exception is the "casualty office" in the Department of Veterans Affairs. Physical and mental casualties are dealt with there in regard to employment.

Work of Selective Service, Mr. Mudge said, begins at the discharge depot where a representative interviews each man or woman leaving the service. This employee explains the employment situation, reinstatement of employees and describes the working of unemployment insurance. He also registers each veteran for employment before his discharge.

Then a record of the veteran is forwarded to the National Selective Service office in his home district. Each veteran receives a letter of introduction to the office in his town. If he fails to report there within 30 days a letter is sent to him asking if he has already obtained employment. Thus Selective Service keeps in touch with the veteran until he is re-established.
Mr. Mudge explained that since June 12, 1944, when a detailed record of veterans was begun in the Victoria office 590 discharged men have been looked after. Of these 523 have been established, 40 have not reported and may have gained employment in another city while 18 men have not been employed through Selective Service. Out of 110 female veterans all except five have already been placed.

Victoria Officer Shows U-Boat Men

OTTAWA (CP) — Captured German U-boat men were given an impressive display of Canadian seamanship when a surrendered undersea raider was taken to a Newfoundland port, a naval release said Monday.

The seamanship was displayed when prisoners were transferred from the corvette Thorlock, commanded by Lieut. John E. Francois of Victoria, B.C., to the frigate Victrola, commanded by Lt.-Comdr. Les Hickey of Dartmouth, N.S.

The ships edged together in open sea and travelling at a 10-knot clip. The ships got so close the skippers could have shaken hands.

One by one the Germans climbed over Thorlock's rail, grabbed lines on the Victrola, and made the jump.

"Within six months we shall be at war with Russia, and it would be better to keep our men in Europe than to bring them back."
"We fought side by side with Russia. Tomorrow we'll be fighting her the same way we fought for democracy as today, democracy is faring worse than ever before."
Mr. Houde said he based his opinion on what certain United States newspaper columnists had written.

On the outcome of next Monday's election, Mr. Houde said:
"Ever since the plebiscite (the April, 1942, plebiscite on conscription), French-Canadians have been more closely united than ever and if they carry on that way we'll send 50 Bloc Populaire members to Ottawa on June 11."

FULL EMPLOYMENT AT FAIR WAGES is the Foundation of all True Progress

"The people of this nation are tired of the delay in correcting the weaknesses that have developed in our system . . . We must correct these obvious weaknesses in the economy we have, by rationalizing it — not by wrecking it. We must maintain the system which gives full play to individual initiative, and a fair return to all legitimate enterprise which provides employment; and the State, by just laws relating to workers, must see to it that at no time shall there fail to be provided the opportunity for a fair day's pay for a fair day's work for every one of our fellow-citizens in this Dominion who is able and willing to work."

John Bracken

We mean to see that every Canadian citizen able to work has the opportunity to work at fair pay.

- RATIONAL REFORM
- MAXIMUM PRODUCTION THROUGH THE FULL DEVELOPMENT OF OUR NATURAL RESOURCES
- FULL EMPLOYMENT AT FAIR WAGES

These are the pledges of the Progressive Conservative Party.

For full employment embracing all Canadians of every Province,

WE WILL:

- Help individual and co-operative enterprise to increase employment by revising crippling tax systems, by removing controls and regulations which slow down the expansion of legitimate enterprise, and by improving relationships between the Government, Labour and Management;
- Establish a National Development Board responsible for plans for full production and employment, as well as the preservation of our natural resources;

- Increase our trade by establishing an Export Board, by aggressive salesmanship abroad, by continuation of mutual aid until no longer necessary and by provision of trade credits to economically backward countries;
- See that the powers of the Bank of Canada are used to supply ample credit for an expanding economy;
- Undertake a carefully planned programme of socially desirable projects, such as low-cost rural and urban housing, rural electrification, conservation and reforestation, the development of natural resources — all on a national basis.

These Progressive Conservative policies are carefully and confidently pointed at a practical national objective — the realization in our time of an age of plenty.

Only the Progressive Conservative Party, with its far-sighted policies for the co-operative development of every part of Canada to new heights of prosperity — a prosperity in which ALL Canadians shall share fairly and honorably — only this Party faces the challenge of the future with abiding confidence in the ultimate realization of the practical objectives embodied in its practical policies for full employment at fair wages.

Organize Pools In B.C. to Fight Jap Balloon Threat

Victoria is now headquarters for one of five emergency firefighting pools established in B.C. to fight possible peril from Japanese balloons. Other pools will be organized throughout the province soon.

The equipment in the pool here consists of 20,000 feet of one and a half inch hose and three 80-gallon portable forestry pumps. The equipment is being stored at the Victoria fire department headquarters.

Chief Alex Munroe said today he understood more equipment would be stored here soon. As yet there is no staff organized specially to man the equipment should it be needed to fight a blaze caused by the explosive balloons which have been drifting over the continent for several months.

A second pool is at Nanaimo. Inspector S. F. M. Moodie, chief warden of the Provincial Civilian Protection Committee, and 20 members of his staff's control branch, have completed inspection of forest fire prevention preparation on Vancouver Island.

Other pools have been established at Cloverdale, Prince George and Smithers.

Moslems Resent Syrian Trouble

NEW DELHI (Reuter) — A grave warning that the whole Moslem world, in the Middle East and India, would flare up unless Syria and Lebanon receive complete freedom from France was issued Monday by Ali Jinnah, President of the All India Moslem League.

Mr. Jinnah, welcoming British and U.S. intervention, added this was not enough. France must be asked to withdraw completely from Syria and so must Britain and other foreign forces.

One Woman's Day...

By NANCY HODGES

INSTITUTE IDYL

BECAUSE SPACE is limited, I was unable yesterday to finish my description of the exquisite gift book sent by the rural women of the British Isles to the rural women of Canada.

So, because I feel that such a spontaneous and touching "hands-across-the-sea" gesture warrants it—both for its human interest as well as its artistic appeal—I am continuing it today.

The proud recipients evidently place a high value upon the book, as, before I was allowed to look through it, I had to don a special pair of white gloves.

And the donors, further to protect it, fashioned and sent a separate case of the same brick-red leather as the binding, in which to keep the precious volume.

HERALDIC ILLUMINATIONS

THE ILLUSTRATIONS, both black and white and in watercolor, are well worth seeing.

Take the frontispiece alone. It reminds one of heraldic illumination, an impression heightened by the armorial devices.

The arms of England, with the scarlet lions on a yellow shield, flank the words: "To the Women's Institutes of Canada from the Women's Institutes of Great Britain in Gratitude and Friendship."

Beneath it are arranged replicas of the W.I. badges of England, Scotland, North Ireland and Wales, centred with that of Ontario—this having been the home institute of Lady Tweedsmuir, during her sojourn as chateau at Rideau Hall, Ottawa.

NATIONAL EMBLEMS

THE PAGE'S border is marked at the four corners by tiny, but exquisitely drawn and colored, replicas of the national emblems.

The maple leaf of Canada, the rose of England, the thistle of Scotland, the leek of Wales and the shamrock of Ireland, are all there.

And the widespread origin of the tribute is further emphasized by the special pages dedicated to messages of greetings from Wales, from Northern Ireland, from England.

While Scotland not only shared in this gift book, but also made up one of her own, beautifully bound in pigskin leather and full of photographic records of what the women north of the border have done, and expressing, too, their appreciation to Canada.

MAKE DO AND MEND

THIS DOMINION'S program of "make do" with clothing had its counterpart in Britain.

There, of course, it was a more intensified effort, and closely rationed.

So the British W.I. book includes a page, entitled "Make Do and Mend," full of humorous sketches in color, showing the funny side of the make-over situation.

This priceless gift of humor, so aptly illustrated in the book, has helped the people of Britain through many a tight spot.

GOOD SAMARITANISM

IN MORE SERIOUS vein is the record of how the money, sent by the Institutes of Canada to help sufferers from the bombing, was distributed.

This Good Samaritanism covered a wide area. For it went, we learn, to the counties of Cheshire, Devon, Essex, Glamorgan, Herefordshire, Kent, Northumberland, Surrey, Suffolk and Sussex.

So that in each of those widely separated areas, Canadian "seeds of friendship" were indeed sown to good purpose.

BEREAVED MOTHER'S THANKS

TO ME, THE MOST poignant pages in the whole book are those given over to the personal stories of some of the blitzed recipients of Canada's bounty.

Side by side with pictures of blasted homes are such moving human documents as this:

"Mrs. Meadows, of Oxford, Suffolk, is a widow. One of her sons was killed at sea. The other, who was home on leave, was killed by the bomb that hit her house. All that she salvaged from the wreckage was a half-stand table. Mrs. Meadows bought herself some much-needed underwear with the Canadian grant."

Because it is a priceless record of the hitherto unsung heroines of this war—both in the British Isles and Canada—as well as for its consummate artistry, this book merits a place in some Canadian shrine, perhaps the Peace Tower at Ottawa.

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

SO THAT GENERATIONS yet unborn can read the epic story and learn of the link forged between the women of this new country and those of the old land.

A link beautifully expressed on the final page in these moving terms:

"This book has tried to express to Canadian Institute members the affection and thanks of the Institute members in Britain and to give a picture of their life in wartime."

"They will ever remember with gratitude the debt they owe to the Women's Institutes of Canada for inspiring them, with the Institute ideals. They are proud to be members of the great fellowship founded by Canada."

"What of the future? The vital duty of Institute members in all the federations within the British Commonwealth of Nations will be to work for a greater understanding, not only between themselves but among women of all countries, and to bring to the problems of peace the same spirit of co-operation and mutual help that has meant so much during the years of war."

"We hope that when the war is over our Federation may meet to discuss these problems. We warmly welcome Canadian Institute members to Britain. Please come!"
